BILL NUMBER: SB 550

NOTE PREPARED: Feb 14, 2011

SUBJECT: Redevelopment commissions and authorities.

FIRST AUTHOR: Sen. Boots

BILL STATUS: CR Adopted - 1st House

FUNDS AFFECTED: GENERAL
 DEDICATED

IMPACT: Local

Summary of Legislation: (Amended) Oversight: This bill provides that the legislative body of a unit must approve the budget, the tax levy, spending, bond and debt financing, a lease pertaining to bonds or debt financing, the use of capitalized interest, selling of property, and allocation of excess tax revenue of the unit's redevelopment commission and redevelopment authority.

Fiscal Officer: The bill provides that the Indianapolis controller is the fiscal officer of the redevelopment commission and redevelopment authority in Indianapolis. It authorizes the Indianapolis controller to obtain financial services on a contractual basis.

Quarterly Reports: This bill requires the treasurer of a redevelopment commission outside Indianapolis to report quarterly to the fiscal officer of the unit that established the commission.

Approval of Payment Agreements: The bill provides that an agreement by a redevelopment commission to make payments for the purchase of property over more than five years is subject to the approval of the legislative body of the unit.

Excess AV Determinations in TIFs: The bill also provides that the legislative body of a unit shall review, may modify, and must approve the redevelopment commission's annual determination of whether there will be assessed value in each allocation area that could be allocated to the base assessed value of all units having taxing authority in the allocation area without impacting the obligations of the redevelopment commission.

Effective Date: July 1, 2011.

Explanation of State Revenues:

Explanation of Local Expenditures: Overall Impact: The added review by an elect body could result in reduced redevelopment commission expenditures which could lead to a reduction in property taxes. The impact on redevelopment, if any, is unknown. The actual impact would depend on local action taken under this bill.

(Revised) Oversight: Under current law, a county or municipality may create a redevelopment commission or in Marion County, a department of metropolitan development. Under this bill, the legislative body of the taxing unit that created the commission or department would have oversight over:

1. The commission or department budget and tax levies;
2. The issuance of certain debt or obligations, including the execution of leases; and
3. The sale or disposal of property.

A commission would not be permitted to issue debt or obligations, including the execution of a lease, that would be paid with tax revenue without first obtaining approval from the enabling taxing unit's legislative body.

Also, the legislative body would be required to specifically approve the payment of capitalized interest.

In a TIF area, captured tax payments are allocated to the redevelopment district and may be used to repay debt and for a variety of uses related to the operations of the redevelopment commission. Under this provision, the unit's legislative body would direct the allocation of the captured tax payments. The redevelopment commission would need specific approval from the legislative body to make an expenditure.

(Revised) Fiscal Officer: Under current law, a redevelopment authority must appoint a secretary-treasurer. Under this bill, the fiscal officer of the enabling taxing unit would become the fiscal officer of the authority and the secretary-treasurer would become the secretary. For Indianapolis/Marion County, the city controller would be the fiscal officer of the redevelopment commission. The fiscal officer of the authority or in Marion County, the commission, would be permitted to contract for financial services. The fiscal impact for this provision would differ by locale and would depend on whether the fiscal officer contracts for financial services.
